

Congressman Tom McClintock: All Talk, No Performance!

2015-2017 Congressional Performance - Not Impressive

McClintock has only introduced seven bills in this legislative session (the fifth worst performance of all California Congresspersons). Of these, only four have made it out of committee and only one passed the Senate (a bill to transfer 80 acres in the Stanislaus Forest to a trust for the Tuolumne Mi-Wok tribe).

McClintock is ultra conservative

McClintock is a member of a number of ultra-right-wing Congressional organizations including the Tea Party Caucus, the Republican Study Committee, and the Liberty Caucus and the even more extreme Freedom Caucus until he resigned in 2015. He has one of the worst records in the House for bi-partisanship. "Of the 280 bills McClintock co-sponsored, [only] 9% were introduced by a Representative that was not a Republican." [www.govtrack.us]. Despite his tenure of nine years, McClintock has no committee chairmanships and only one subcommittee chairmanship (Federal Lands).

You Can Tell A Lot About Someone Based on Their Friends

Those who "like" Tom McClintock with ratings of 70-100:

- American Forest and Paper Association
- Associated Builders and Contractors
- National Ready-Mix Concrete Association
- National Association of Manufacturers
- American Conservative Union
- Federation for American Immigration Reform
- Americans for Prosperity

But the League of Conservation Voters gives McClintock a score of 0% on the National Environmental Scoreboard and he is among a group of 15 congressmen designated as "Public Land Enemies" by the Center for Biological Diversity.

McClintock has continually voted against the best interests of his constituents.

He voted for the House healthcare bill that spells disaster for thousands in our community and he voted for several bills that would be devastating to our forests.
